FOURTEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME – 9th July 2017

Blest are the pure in heart...

There are times when we feel overwhelmed by the world, by responsibilities, even by our efforts to grow in our important relationships. We watch the news, listen to commentaries and witness all we hold dear being mocked. We see images of turmoil in the world, and as we witness all this we can feel that the world is too much for us. "Come to me," the Lord says, "for I am meek and humble of heart." He is saying to us; Entrust yourself to me. I will care for you. I will care for your family. I am God, but I walk with you. All relationships, including our relationship with God take effort. In our prayer we come before Him and say, "I can't seem to get along with anyone, beginning with myself, and including you." And Jesus says, "I've got you, I'll teach you how to love. Just let me hold you, and care for you. I want to help you. Come to me, I am meek and humble of heart." The One who carries us is stronger than our fears, stronger than our struggles, strong enough to carry us; His strength is Love.

... For they shall see our God!

SEA SUNDAY

Today is Sea Sunday when the Church prays for all those who live and work at sea. Without them we would not have most of the items we buy in the shops. Today's second collection is for Apostleship of the Sea, the Church's official maritime welfare agency, which supports seafarers both practically and spiritually. Please remember seafarers in your prayers.
